INTRODUCTION

When Edwin and Lillian Harvey were sent to the UK in 1938 as missionaries from their church in America, they doubtless had no idea that posterity would remember them, not so much for their role as directors of a Bible College in Glasgow, or the leaders of an evangelical mission known in England as the M.O.V.E. (Message of Victory Evangelism), but rather as authors of thirty devotional books, and the founders of Harvey Christian Publishers, USA.

Without extensive topical, textual, and biographical files, however, this small, family publishing would never have come into existence. Confined to bed with bronchitis for weeks on end due to the long, damp British winters, Lillian read every Christian magazine and book which came into her possession. Already co-editor with her husband of the bimonthly magazine, The Message of Victory, and always on the lookout for fresh material, she avidly culled any quotations or articles which blessed her heart and filed them methodically away under various topics. Then, one day, Edwin and Lillian were impressed by the following verses from the fortieth Psalm: Walk about Zion, and go round about her: tell the towers thereof. Mark ye well her bulwarks, consider her palaces; that ye may tell it to the generation following. (Psalms 48:12,13). They visualized Zion's towers as her prophets and watchmen, Zion's bulwarks—her reformers and defenders of the faith, and Zion's palaces—those human dwellings made beautiful and majestic by the presence of the King of kings. This vision materialized into a commission to make these prophets, reformers, and saints known to future generations through the books they would jointly write and compile.

Although Edwin and Lillian were originally from a Wesleyan-holiness background, their books are unique in that they span generations, denominations, and nationalities. Take for example their first publication—The Christians' Daily Challenge—which contains gems from their extensive files, arranged by topics such as prayer, the importance of God's Word, the use of suffering in a Christian's life, revival, and many others. Although their compilations differ widely in topic, they were all published with the same goal—to see God's children built up in their faith through the example and writings of past saints. The publishing venture the Harveys began in 1956 became known in England as the M.O.V.E. Press with headquarters in Staffordshire, England. They returned to the states in 1981 taking with them over twenty thousand of their books. After many difficulties, they established a small publishing in the States which eventually became known as Harvey Christian Publishers.

In 1981, Edwin passed away leaving Lillian with a dilemma. Already 72 years of age, she asked herself whether she should take her well-earned retirement, or complete the half-finished manuscripts she and her husband had prepared together. Having already begun the Call Back Series, Lillian decided to take the latter course. Desperately missing her husband of forty-five years, tears would course down her cheeks and plop onto the keyboard as she wrote about the loneliness and frustration of God's servants and how He used their suffering to bless multitudes. Lillian compiled and wrote a further seventeen books after becoming a widow. She continued her writing and publishing until the age of ninety.

After Edwin's death, his daughter, Trudy, edited her mother's writings and occasionally contributed articles and stories. Trudy's husband, Barry, continued to act as dispatcher and distributor. Lillian was also helped by friends from the UK who would graciously offer their services. When Lillian became incapacitated in 2002, Trudy and Barry Tait became directors of Harvey Christian Publishers.

In past years, the Taites have traveled to Europe, Australia, New Zealand, and all over the States distributing the Harveys' books. Now, with their added responsibilities and the development of the internet, distribution is mainly through mail order and e-books although they still continue to visit Romania annually and their itinerary sometimes includes other Eastern European countries.

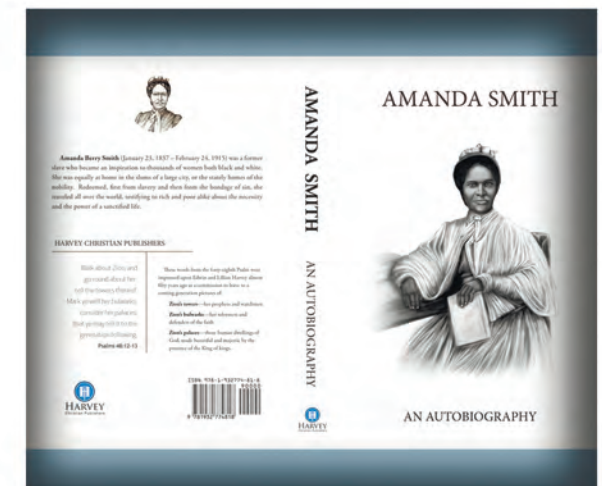

Trudy and Barry would value prayers regarding the future of the publishing. Changing times demand flexibility and adaptation. Pray that the same Spirit Who inspired Edwin and Lillian, will work in and through the books they write and publish.

AMANDA SMITH

Autobiography (unabridged), available in both hardback and soft cover. Amanda Berry Smith (January 23, 1837 - February 24, 1915) was a former slave who became an inspiration to thousands of women both black and white. She was equally at home in the slums of a large city, or the stately residences of the nobility. Redeemed, first from slavery and then from the bondage of sin, she traveled all over the world, testifying to rich and poor alike about the necessity and the power of a sanctified life. Her autobiography is quaint and truthful. Living when she did, Amanda faced many obstacles in her faith journey and often abashed and silenced her enemies through a winning combination of truth, love, and utter devotion to the Master she served. 520 pages

«Oh, the pains that God has to take to bring us to this 'abandon'—equally ready for silence or for saying, for stillness or for doing unhesitatingly the next thing He calls for, unfettered by surroundings or consequences. How much reserve and self-consciousness have to give way with some of us before the absolute control passes into His hands and the responsibility with it.» —Lillias Trotter, from They Knew Their God vol 1.

Call Back One:

Illness

By E. F. & L. Harvey

Some of God's servants share with us how the grace of God enabled them to endure illnesses, afflictions, and nervous complaints triumphantly, and both receive and transmit blessing through their trials. Edward Payson, Catherine Booth, George Müller, C.H. Spurgeon, and Frances Havergal are just a sample of those quoted. 72 pages

Call Back Two:

Loneliness

by E. F. & L. Harvey

The loneliness of the orphan, of those misunderstood or maligned, of the unmarried or bereaved—all these and other forms of loneliness have been experienced by pastors, missionaries, and other Christians down through the centuries. Some of these saints call back to us in these 25 chapters to tell how God used their experience in loneliness to both enrich their lives and increase their sphere of influence. A few of those cited are: Sadhu Sundar Singh, A. W. Tozer, Oswald Chambers, and Edwin Harvey. 89 pages

This series is designed to encourage suffering Christians to know that, whatever trial they may be encountering, others have passed the same way before and are calling back to them through their personal testimonies, encouraging them to prove, as they have done, that "all things" truly work for good to those who love God.

Call Back Six and Seven:

Handicaps*, Volumes 1&2

by E. F. & L. Harvey

These books relate the trials and triumphs of those who were handicapped through physical deformities and disabilities, through crushing sorrow from multiple bereavements, through incompatible partners in life and business, through poverty, or through social ostracism. They encourage other sufferers to endure and conquer by allowing God to redirect their talents. Annie Johnson Flint, Father Damien, Isaac Watts, Alan Redpath, Fanny Crosby, John Milton, Helen Keller, Longfellow, and Robert Louis Stevenson are but a few of those quoted in these volumes. 96 & 142 pages respectively

Call Back Three:

Frustration

by E. F. & L. Harvey

Knowing that you are not alone in your trial greatly helps you to endure and conquer. In these chapters, read how John Wesley, William Carey, A. B. Simpson, G. F. Handel, and others experienced extreme frustration brought about by betrayal, rejection, and failure, and how God enabled them to face their ordeal and even be blessed through it. 104 pages

Call Back Four and Five:

Opposition

Volumes 1&2

by E. F. & L. Harvey

These two Call Backs guide the reader down the centuries, beginning with the life of Jesus and ending in the 1800's. Each chapter in these books reveals how the true Christian has always faced the antagonism of both the devil and the world when attempting to achieve anything of value for Christ's Kingdom. 111 & 120 pages respectively

Call Back Eight:

Old Age—Handicap or Blessing?

by L. Harvey and Trudy Harvey
Tait

Our culture often sets a great premium upon youth, but this book shows that sometimes the greatest accomplishments of life have taken place in old age. Read the fascinating stories of Granny Brand who refused to "retire" from the mission-field until her death at ninety-four or of George Müller who traveled 200,000 miles preaching the gospel after his 70th birthday! 128 pages

Old Age

by Ottie Mearl Stuckenbruck

This is a story of two pioneers who labored for Christ in Germany just after World War 2. “More than recording the story of our personal lives,” writes Ottie Mearl Stuckenbruck, “I wanted to preserve our commitment as representatives, both of the Lord in whose name we served and the European Evangelistic Society in Germany. I wish to testify to the presence and guidance of Jesus and the Holy Spirit who undergirded our lives and the lives of those who sent us to accomplish His will.” “Through this book,” writes Dr. Phillips, a close family friend, “your lives and work will live on and provide inspiration to generations yet unborn – that at least is my hope.”

COMMITTED UNTO US

GERHARD TERSTEEGEN VOL. 1: RECLUSE IN DEMAND (LIFE AND LETTERS)

Compiled from editions by Samuel Jackson, Emma Frances
Bevan, and Emily Chrisholm.

After a very real encounter with God, Tersteegen sought a life of seclusion and contemplation. Hungry souls, however, besieged his dwelling place, anxious to feast their souls on the Bread of Life. This book includes his biography, together with a number of his letters. 142 pages

GERHARD TERSTEEGEN VOL. 2 SERMONS AND HYMNS

A collection of thirty hymns and several sermons, punctuated with a number of short quotations, from the pen of this spiritual master. This book has proved a source of wisdom and inspiration as well as an aid to worship. 144 pages

COUNT ZINZENDORF

by Felix Bovet

by Felix Bovet
A very well written account of an unusual man of God, Count Zinzendorf, a contemporary of John Wesley, who founded a religious community among Moravian immigrants called Herrnhut. He also wrote hymns and various books and instituted foreign missions. 96 pages

HEART BREATHINGS IN POETRY AND PROSE

by Leonard Ravenhill

This book contains the poetry and sentence sermons of the late Leonard Ravenhill, whose books have been a challenge and inspiration to many. “Read these poems with the heart,” says his son, Paul, in the foreword, “and the mind will follow on behind.” 112 pages

HOW THEY PRAYED

This is a biographical series showing how prayer played an important role in the lives of both well known and more obscure Christians throughout the centuries.

Volume One Household Prayers

This book is a plea for a return of prayer and worship in the home, citing many examples of how praying family members have prevailed with God for their loved ones—parents who prayed for their children, children who prayed for their parents, wives and husbands who prayed for each other. 19 short, easy-to-read chapters. 119 pages

Volume Two Ministers' Prayers

The first three chapters of this book contain testimonies from various Christians on the benefits of early morning rising for prayer and Bible study. The remaining chapters relate how ministers and preachers from differing denominational backgrounds and nationalities gave prayer a primary place in their ministry. 104 pages

Volume Three

Missionaries and Revival Gain an insight into the prayer-lives of various missionaries. Discover how largely prayer figured in the revival of 1857 and others. Read the touching story of Lily Roberts, a missionary in the Congo, who prayed, “Lord, my life for revival,” and how God took her at her word. All in this book! 127 pages

STRIKING INCIDENTS OF SAVING GRACE

by Henry Breeden

This book, much of it in diary form, unveils the heart longings of this man of God, a personal friend of the well-known John Smith. Breeden's life was one of prevailing prayer and of Holy Ghost passion for the conversion of men. 220 pages

Volume 1
by E. F. & L. Harvey & E. Hey
Contains eighteen sketches of men and women whose close relationship with God made them outstanding. Their examples urge us to tread the same sacred though often thorny road. A few of those included are: John Tauler, R. C. Chapman, Elizabeth Baxter, Liliastrotter, and S. L. Brengle. 193 pages

This biographical series of six volumes is unique in that the authors have emphasized the spiritual journeys of the characters chosen rather than their achievements. How did these saints really get to know their God is a question they try to answer. Read how these men and women, chosen from various denominations, nationalities, and centuries, have so much in common—their insatiable thirst for God and their desire to know His mind and His ways.

Volume 4
by E. F. & L. Harvey
Enjoy reading the lives of Matthew Henry (the commentator) and his godly father, Frank and Emily Crossley, Freeborn Garrettson, John Hunt, and other saintly men and women. 183 pages

Volume 2
by E. F. & L. Harvey
A further seventeen sketches of godly men and women who lost themselves in God and found Him to be everything in their nothingness. Some of those included are: G. D. Watson, Gerhard Tersteegen, Pastor Hsi, Jessie Penn-Lewis, Phoebe Palmer, and G.H.Lang. 217 pages

by E. F. & L. Harvey
This volume contains a unique sketch of Mrs. Oswald Chambers as well as one of her more famous husband. Also included are John G. Govan, George Railton, Evan Hopkins, Samuel Pearce, Francis Asbury, Mary Mozley, and others. 180 pages

They knew their

It was Lillian's unfulfilled desire to complete the series with a final Volume. We, her daughter and son-in-law, hope eventually to publish a seventh volume which would include a sketch of our parents as well as those of God's saints who have been known personally by us or by those associated with us.

Volume 5

by Lillian G. Harvey

Meet another twelve choice souls who knew their God. Some are more widely known than others but all walked with God and were passionately devoted to Christ. The life stories of Joseph Alleine, George Matheson, Jonathan Goforth, Mary Fletcher, Kate Lee, Miguel Molinos, and others are waiting to be discovered in this fascinating and deeply stirring book. 204 pages

by Lillian G. Harvey

This last volume in the series was Lillian Harvey's last book and completed at the age of ninety. It includes life sketches of Chrysostom, John Brown, Charles Simeon, Henry Martyn, Helen Ewan, Edward Payson, James Turner, Thomas Waring, Anthony Norris Groves, Mary Bethia Groves, William Wilberforce, John Pierpont, Johann Christoph Blumhardt, and E. M. Bounds. 197 pages

Three in Love

by Trudy Harvey Tait

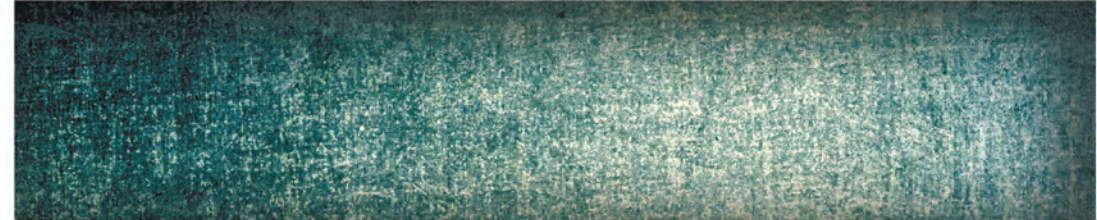

The title of this book, "Three in Love," refers to the only legitimate love-triangle on record—bride, bridegroom and the Lord Jesus Christ! Marriage is not outmoded. God is still in the business of uniting man and woman in holy matrimony and in cementing that union by the breath of His own boundless and unfathomable love! There are nine romance stories in this volume including those of Charles and Susannah Spurgeon, William and Catherine Booth, and Edwin and Lillian Harvey. 144 pages

William Carvosso

Autobiography and Letters

This biography illustrates how an ordinary lay person can be wonderfully used in the purposes of God. Having no special talents or even a call to preach, Carvosso was yet a "burning and shining light," and multitudes were blessed through his life and labors. We can all learn much from his story. 196 pages

GOD

1. The Lord's my Shepherd, I'll not want;
He makes me down to lie
In pastures green; He leadeth me
The quiet waters by.

2. My soul He doth restore again,
And me to walk
doth make
Within the paths
of righteousness,
E'en for His own Name's sake.

3. Yea, though I walk through death's dark vale,
Yet will I fear no ill,
For Thou art with me, and Thy rod
And staff me comfort still.

4. A table Thou hast furnished me
In presence of my foes;
My head Thou dost with oil anoint,
And my cup overflows.

5. Goodness and mercy all my life
shall surely follow me,
And in God's house forevermore
My dwelling place shall be.

1 The aearth is the Lord's, and all its fullness,
The world and those who dwell therein.

2 For He has founded it upon the seas,
And established it upon the waters.

3 Who may ascend into the hill of the Lord?
Or who may stand in His holy place?

4 He who has clean hands and a pure heart,
Who has not lifted up his soul to an idol,
Nor sworn deceitfully.

5 He shall receive blessing from the Lord,
And righteousness from the God of his salvation.

6 This is Jacob, the generation of those who seek Him,
Who seek Your face.

7 Lift up your heads, O you gates!
And be lifted up, you everlasting doors!
And the King of glory shall come in.

1. Those who live in the shelter of the Most High will find rest in the shadow of the Almighty.

2. This I declare about the Lord:
He alone is my refuge, my place of safety;
he is my God, and I trust him.

3. For he will rescue
you from every trap
and protect you from deadly disease.

4. He will cover you with his feathers.
He will shelter you with his wings.
His faithful promises are your armor and protection.

5. Do not be afraid of the terrors of the night, nor the arrow that flies in the day.

6. Do not dread the disease that stalks in darkness,
nor the disaster that strikes at midday.

7. Though a thousand fall at your side, though ten thousand are dying around you,
the evils will not touch you.

8. Just open your eyes and see how the wicked are punished.

9. If you make the Lord your refuge, if you make the Most High your shelter,
no evil will conquer you;
no plague will come near your home.

11. For he will order his angels to protect you wherever you go.

12. They will hold you up with their hands so you won't even hurt your foot on a stone.

13. You will trample upon lions and cobras;
you will crush fierce lions and serpents under your feet!

14. The Lord says, "I will rescue those who love me.
I will protect those who trust in my name.

15. When they call on me, I will answer;
I will be with them in trouble.
I will rescue and honor them.

16. I will reward them with a long life and give them my salvation."

DEVOTIONAL

THE AMAZING BOOK

These two volumes, emphasizing the life-changing potency of the Word of God, are a refreshing reminder of its wonder, beauty, and power. Ideal for use as a daily devotional, each volume contains approximately sixty readings, compiled from at least 250 different sources. At the back of each book, there are indexes of both Scripture verses used and authors cited. "A Famine for the Word of God," "The Bible—A Purifier," "The Piercing Word," "A Key that Fits Every Difficulty" are but a few of the chapter headings. It is hoped that the testimonies, exhortations, and poetry of God's saints of all ages concerning the marvels of the Scriptures will whet your appetite for a more prolonged and frequent feeding on the heavenly manna. 198 pages respectively

Volumes 1 & 2

Compiled by Lillian Harvey and Trudy Harvey Tait

This is a daily devotional for Christian growth in the form of stirring readings which challenge the Christian. This book is unique in that it contains quotes from over 200 authors of various denominational backgrounds, carefully and prayerfully selected and combined with Scripture texts on such subjects as "Faithfulness in small things," "Too big for God to use," "Nourishment through the Word," "Life eased by a yoke," and 361 others. 397 pages

"I stared at the three hundred and sixty-five manuscripts my parents had prepared for the printer. They were stacked in neat piles and divided into various subjects. Why, I puzzled, when they were meticulously typed and proofed, did they lie there day after day? 'Aren't you sending your book to the printers?' I finally asked my parents. 'It's ready, isn't it?'
"They smiled at me and answered patiently, 'Yes, it's ready. But we want each reading to be bathed in prayer. In the coming years, it will be read by people in crisis, people facing bereavement, discouraged and lonely people. We want to be sure we have God's mind on the order in which we put all these readings.'
"It sounded reasonable and I was satisfied. But I could not realize then, being only nine years of age, how vitally crucial that period of waiting on God would prove to be. I could not foresee the many letters we would receive from all around the world, telling us how some particular reading, on some particular day, saved some young person from making a wrong decision, encouraged a pastor or missionary to keep faithful to the cross, or gave hope in the moment of despair." (Publishers' foreword)

The Christian's Daily Challenge

ELISHA

by Robert Cox

This book is a series of meditations on the life of Elisha. It is, in essence, a devotional commentary and brings the reader fresh insight into the life of this remarkable prophet. The Spirit's illumination breathes through each page. We are confident that this book will be a rich blessing as it is the fruit of much meditation and reliance on the Word. 228 pages

The Fiery Ordeal

by Lillian Harvey

The author shows that just as in the natural world the gems of greatest worth are only produced by intense heat, so the Christian who seeks to build upon his foundation gold, silver, and precious stones must endure the fires of affliction and suffering. 16 pages

Exceeding Great Reward

by Lillian Harvey

A personal account by the author of how God became her Exceeding Great Reward after the passing of her husband of 45 years. Included are quotations from Joseph Parker, F. B. Meyer, Oswald Chambers, Henry Law, and others. An excellent gift for those who have recently lost a dearly loved partner or friend. 16 pages

Heart Purity

by Lillian Harvey

This pamphlet takes a look at the subject of heart purity as seen by St. Peter. It should help to clear up some misunderstandings on the subject, and stresses the absolute necessity of pure motives in Christian life and witness. 8 pages

KNEELING WE TRIUMPH

Compiled by E. F. & L. Harvey

Volume 1 and 2

Each volume contains sixty two-page readings on prayer. Titles in the first volume include: "Authority to Take," "For the Asking," "Beauty of Delayed Answers," and "Prayers that Outlive an Age." "It transformed my prayer life" was the report of one reader. Titles in the second volume include: "Waiting, a Proof of our Faith," "Hush My Heart to Listen," "When Prayer is a Cry." Suggestion: Order them, read them, and obey them! 127 pages each

Missing the Way

by Patricia St John

It was several "small," respectable sins—subtle manifestations of unbelief—that kept the children of Israel out of the promised land. Those same easily hidden sins will also keep us out of the spiritual rest that is God's provision for all His believing children. What is the remedy? Find out by reading this booklet by the author of Treasures of the Snow and other well-loved children's books. 42 pages

This little booklet, first of all, describes a journey in search of spiritual reality. However, that quest having been gloriously ended, another immediately begins: a search for the perfect Church. Follow the author as she describes the frustrations and disappointments that dogged her steps in this long voyage of discovery. 15 pages (half size) by Lillian G. Harvey

MY SEARCH FOR THE PERFECT CHURCH

Royal Counsel

Thirty-one daily readings which challenge the reader to deeper Bible study. The authors' lives were revolutionized as they prepared this book; it may do the same for you! 64 pages

Royal Insignia

Ninety-eight two-page readings on the often misunderstood subject of humility. It is a compilation of testimonials from almost two hundred godly men and women describing the dangers of pride and the necessity of dependence upon God. Read how others, in traveling this journey of descent, discovered wings with which to soar into the heavenlies with Christ Jesus. Includes an index of authors and Scripture texts. Your library is incomplete without it. 207 pages

Royal Exchange

Thirty-one daily readings which stimulate the reader to exchange his/her weakness for divine strength—an exchange which, in this busy age, is often the missing dimension of prayer. 64 pages

Royal Pilgrimage

Thirty-eight short readings which remind us that this world is not our home, that we are just passing through, and challenge us to exhibit, day by day, that we are pilgrims and strangers on earth. Reading this book will help to make earth a little less like home and heaven a little more so. 112 pages

Royal Purposes

Thirty-one daily readings showing that God has loving designs for His children when suffering and difficulty would suggest the contrary. "Over the years," writes a midwife tutor from Manchester, England, "I have given away many copies to Christians in distress and breakdown situations. It is by far the most valuable book I have found for those needs." 64 pages

FOR THE FAMILY

Untried material;
Clay yet unwrought;
Future, ethereal;
Powers unthought;
No angel can measure
The breadth of your span,
Nor mete out for treasure
The reach of a man.

Soul Sculpture.

ASKING FATHER

by E. F. & L. Harvey & Trudy Harvey Tait

Does God answer children's prayers?

Read these short, factual stories of children and adults who approached their

Heavenly Father with confidence, knowing that He would honor their prayers and were not disappointed.

Parents enjoy reading this book as much as their children. It is also an excellent source of material for Sunday Schools.

Suitable for children seven and upwards.

128 pages

ERIC

by F. W. Farrar

An extremely poignant story of a popular schoolboy's descent into evil at an English boarding school. His eventual repentance, while sincere, comes too late to save him from reaping the consequence of his actions.

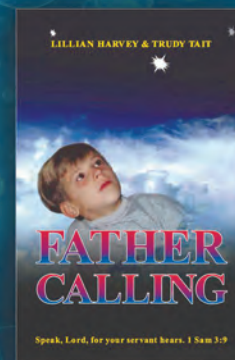

The author shows graphically how the descent into sin is most often akin to a slow leak rather than to a blowout. Many families have been melted into tears as they read this convicting and convincing book together. It has been the means of turning many prodigals homeward, and of preventing young lives from succumbing to the evil around them. Suitable for young people twelve and upwards. 240 pages

FATHER CALLING

by E. F. & L. Harvey & Trudy Harvey Tait

This companion to Asking Father shows how God can speak to children, calling them to Himself. It tells of how such famous Christians as C H. Spurgeon, Adam Clarke, Samuel Chadwick, Ida Scudder, and others heard His voice when still very young and were thus prepared for their unique place in His divine plan. Suitable for children eight and upwards. 112 pages

JESSICA'S FIRST PRAYER

by Hesba Stretton

To Jessica, a poor outcast girl on the streets of London who has to beg or steal to keep herself alive, Mr. Daniel's coffee stall becomes, for a few moments each week, a little paradise. The unlikely pair influence each other in striking ways: Jessica comes to know the God Who answers prayer, and Mr. Daniel is brought to repentance for his life of meanness and covetousness. Suitable for children nine and upwards. 70 pages

by Trudy Harvey Tait and Catherine Woodruff Tait

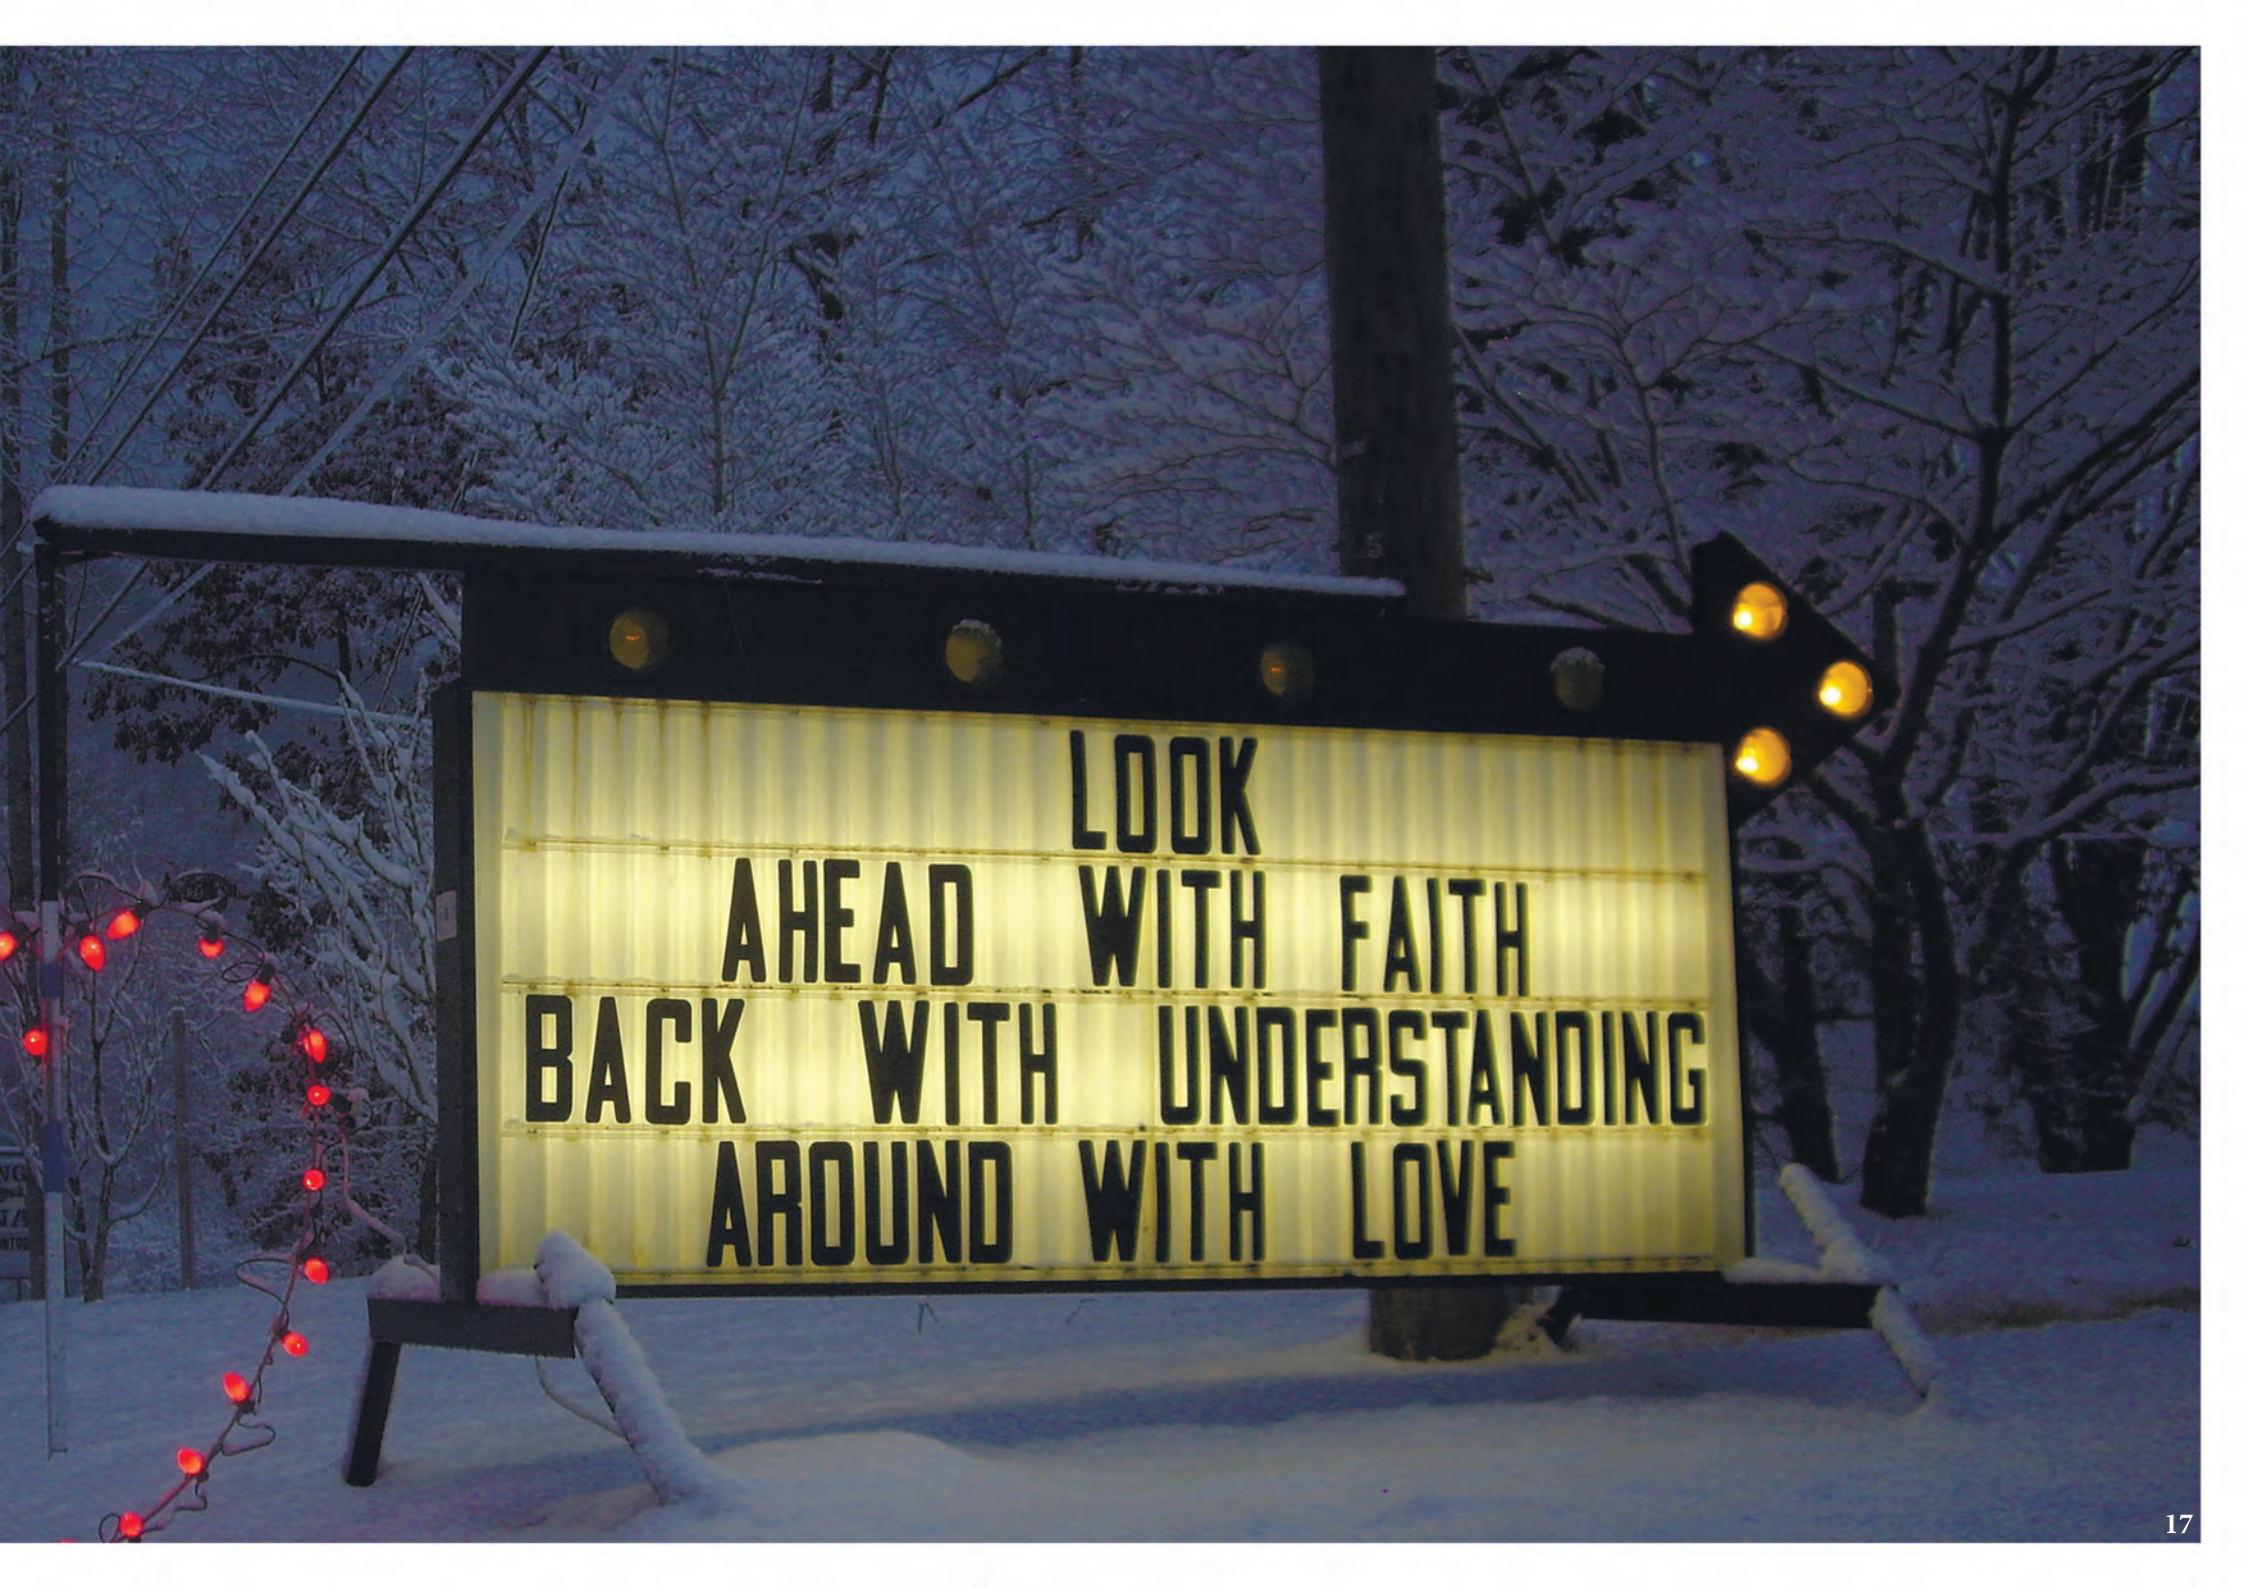

This story of a singing mouse, who saves thousands of mice from destruction, began as a bedtime story Trudy told to her six-year-old granddaughter, Catherine. Then, one day, she thought it might be worth writing down. Eventually, Catherine wanted to help. Sometimes she would suggest names for the characters; sometimes, sitting beside her grandmother on the sofa or propped up in bed, she would spell out words on the keyboard. "This is what a child would say, Grandma," she would advise, or "I don't like that name for the king. Let's call him Rumurus." "If this ever gets printed," Trudy told her, "your name should be on the book." She kept her promise and so we present to you the story of Licky the Singing Mouse. Enjoy! Suitable for children ages seven and upward. 120 pages with over 30 colored illustrations

Compiled by E. F. & L. Harvey

This book is a must for parents and would-be parents, for it reminds them of the tremendous potentiality of a soul entrusted to their care, and the responsibility of helping to shape it for eternity. This book is packed with challenging quotations in poetry and prose, and recommended by pastors and Christian workers as material for lectures and programs. 134 pages

“I listen in silence, light dawning on me gradually. I begin to see the big picture and it scares me. I’m going home to face a father I do not know—a scared, frightened, disillusioned father, who seems to be the victim of his own sanctity.”—from Love Me And Let Me Go.

THE KING'S DIAMOND

by Lillian Harvey

Read how a rich and skeptical young diamond merchant from South Africa travels the world in search of a human diamond. While visiting a cousin in the hills of Northern England, he stumbles across is a young Christian woman who seems different from all the girls he has previously met. Putting her through a series of strenuous “tests”, he concludes triumphantly that he has finally found his diamond. But he soon discovers that Someone has outbid him! Read, and be encouraged that it is possible, even today, to prove that Christ can take our worthless ore and produce from it a gem of priceless worth. 155 pages

LOVE ME AND LET ME GO

by Trudy Harvey Tait

This is a novel which is inspired by personal experience and observation. It is set in the 1970's and centers around the heroine's struggle to find her own spiritual feet while still locked in step with her very devoted, very sincere, and very controlling father. She adores, respects, and fears him, and yet she longs to discover her own voice — be her own person. This involves choosing where she will worship, what she will do with her life, and the type of man she wants to marry. «Love me and let me go» she pleads with those who love her best. And when they, very reluctantly, do just that, she discovers, in the end, that true spiritual freedom is only found through capitulating to the will of God. 268 pages

VOLUME 1: THE VELVET CURTAIN

Step back into the eighties when Communism still held deadly sway in Eastern Europe and imagine yourself with Esther, a Romanian teenager, coming to America, the land of freedom, for the first time and discovering that there is much more awaiting her than a mere change of cultures. Her beauty and individuality soon open up a completely new and overwhelming world. She rejoices in her new-found liberty and popularity, but the “curtain” is fast closing in. Will it completely smother her, or will she be able to escape its folds? 336 pages

VOLUME 2: BEHIND THE VELVET CURTAIN

This book continues the story of Esther and Gabby, the two Romanian girls who, in their attempts to escape the Iron Curtain, find themselves enmeshed in its Western counterpart. Esther takes drastic measures to stay clear of the Velvet Curtain, while Gabby denies its very existence and calls it, instead, “The American Dream.” And yet, behind this all-enveloping Curtain, the two girls and their friends, Len and Ron Atwood, discover that God can turn tragedy into triumph. The story will take unexpected twists and turns as His grace invades, transforms, and redirects the lives of flawed and erring human beings.

VOLUME 3: ESCAPING THE VELVET CURTAIN

Escaping The Velvet Curtain continues and concludes the saga of Esther, her sister Gabby, and their friends. “What actually is the Velvet Curtain?” you may be asking, a question each character attempts to answer at the close of this third volume. And, as we readers empathize with one answer or another, I trust all will be inspired, encouraged and challenged. 272 pages

by Trudy Harvey Tait

Having spent her teenage years during the Cold War, the term “Iron Curtain” was very familiar to Trudy. Years later, after visiting Romania in the early nineties, she became convinced that there was, indeed, a Western equivalent which could well be termed “The Velvet Curtain.” As she saw immigrants come to the States, thinking it a virtual paradise for the Christian only to be smothered by this soft, insidious curtain, she determined to write a novel which expressed what she truly felt. This vision did not materialize, however, until 2005 when she tried her hand at her first novel which was followed by two others to form the Velvet Curtain Series. It is our hope that, reading these books, you will not only have an enjoyable read, but realize that it takes as much “guts” to be a dynamic Christian in the West as it did for those suffering under communism. An unfounded statement, you suggest? Read these books and then form your own conclusion.

IDENTIFICATION

I am a flame born of celestial fire,
I bear a name, Insatiable Desire.
I wear in heart an image all divine,
Past human art, not traced by mortal line.
I hear God call to taste His heavenly power:
I give my all to burn life's single hour.
So let me burn through fetters that would bind;
Thus will I learn and freedom will I find.
I shall return to Love's eternal fire,
There shall I burn, a satisfied desire.
—John Wright Follette, from Broken Bread.

Blessing the Church?

By Clifford Hill with Peter Fenwick, David Forbes, and David Noakes

Writing from within the Charismatic Movement, the four contributors to this book review its history and direction and sound a warning concerning twentieth century phenomena, the Toronto Blessing in particular. "When people believe others to be in danger," writes Nick Cuthbert, "they are right to sound a warning. These authors have done just that. We are now left with the choice of how we will respond."

BROKEN BREAD

by John Wright Follette

John Wright Follette, a gifted Bible teacher and a dedicated Christian, took three vows—that of chastity, poverty, and obedience. This collection of twenty sermons, together with a number of his unique poems, reveal how God honored his faithful servant by endowing him with an unusual perception of spiritual realities. Some of the chapter titles are: “Trouble is a Servant,” “Waiting upon God,” “The Purpose of Adam’s Test,” “Deep Calleth Unto Deep,” “Emptied from Vessel to Vessel,” “Christian Character—a Qualification.” 216 pages

EYES OPENED

TO SATAN’S SUBTLETY

by Emile Kremer

The origin, nature, and consequences of superstition, divination, and occultism are examined Scripturally. Exposes Satan’s subtlety as well as Christ’s power to deliver. 115 pages

The Land and Life Of Rest

by W. Graham Scroggie

This is an unabridged reprint of a series of Keswick Bible Readings on the book of Joshua—the best we have found on the subject. Dr. Scroggie shows that the possession of Canaan by the Israelites is an Old Testament picture of the “life more abundant” presented in the New Testament. 84 pages

Letters of John Fletcher

Selected and Edited by Edward Cook

This volume of letters is a treasury of devotional writing, full of spiritual instruction and godly counsel from one who was generally acknowledged by his contemporaries to be unequalled for piety, humility, and Christlikeness of spirit. As far as we know, most of these letters have not been in print since 1802. 192 pages

MOODS OF THE SPIRIT

OUR OWN GOD

A Pot of Oil

by George Bowen

A most unusual verse-by-verse meditation on the blessed words and actions of Jesus the night before His crucifixion as related in St. John's Gospel, chapters 13-17. Few Christian bookshelves today contain a copy of this rare volume. This is your opportunity to obtain a treasure. 263 pages

by various authors

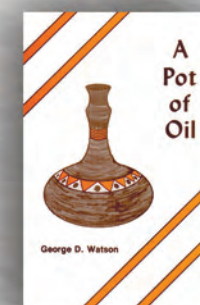

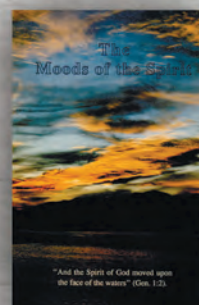

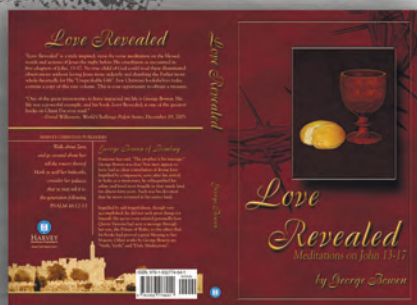

This stirring booklet contains four sections, all on the Holy Spirit. The first, by John L. Brasher, shows how the Holy Spirit manifests Himself in the Christian in different moods. Other sections are by J. B. Finley, David L. Fenwick, and E. M. Bounds. 40 pages

by G.D. Watson

Certainly one of the most loved and inspiring of Watson's books. The opening statement, "God is our nearest relative," sums up the spirit breathed throughout this spiritual classic. This is a most inspiring work dealing with the character of God in such a way as to make one long to know Him more intimately, to love Him more ardently, and to serve Him more unreservedly. At the end of seven consecutive readings of this book, Edwin F. Harvey testified that he longed to button-hole every passerby and tell them what a wonderful God he had! 160 pages

by G.D. Watson

Seventeen helpful chapters on various subjects from the pen of one whose mind was enlightened by the Holy Ghost and whose heart was ablaze with the love of God. A few chapter headings are: "Vessels of Prayer," "True and False Fire," "A Spiritual Will," "Signs of Progress," "Tried by the Lord." 129 pages

Pressed Juice

by John Wright Follette

A series of articles taken from various periodicals. "I can give as my personal testimony," said Mr. Follette, "that these deeper revelations of truth and clear understanding of the things of God, have come only through suffering." His life endorsed to the fullest what he spoke or wrote. 144 pages

The twenty chapters of this inspiring book deal with such subjects as "How to Die to Self," "Learning Spiritual Lessons," "Blessed Poverty," "The Dangers of Prosperity," "Human Religion," and others. 100 pages

An excellent help to all those wishing to understand the various stages through which the growing Christian must pass. Chapter titles will make you wish to read this helpful book: "Loaded Words," "Lukewarmness," "Feeding Our Faith," "The Benefit of Deep Crucifixion," "Fretting Over Ourselves," "Little Things," "Alone with God," "Climax of Sorrow," and others. 102 pages

STEPS TO THE THRONE

by G.D. Watson

This book is a study of the "seven overcomeths" in the Book of Revelation. "I have given in this book," writes the author, "what the Spirit has given me of the application of the 'seven overcomeths,' not only to the inner life in the present state, but their application as preparing the believer to reign with Jesus in His coming Kingdom." 87 pages

WHITE ROBES

by G. D. Watson

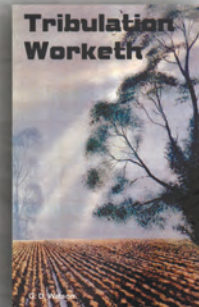

Watson lovers everywhere will enjoy this reprint. Of the thirty chapter titles, we can mention but a few: "Obstructions to Growth," "Purified—But How Far?" "I Don't Feel," "A Holy Taste," "Martyrs of the Holy Ghost," "and "If Any Man Sin." A short sketch of the author's life is also included. 110 pages

TRIBULATION WORKETH

by G.D. Watson

A selection of writings from Watson's books, all on the subject of tribulation and what it works in the Christian. An excellent book to give to a friend who is going through a bleak period in his/her experience. 78 pages

GOOD ANGELS AND EVIL ANGELS

by John Wesley

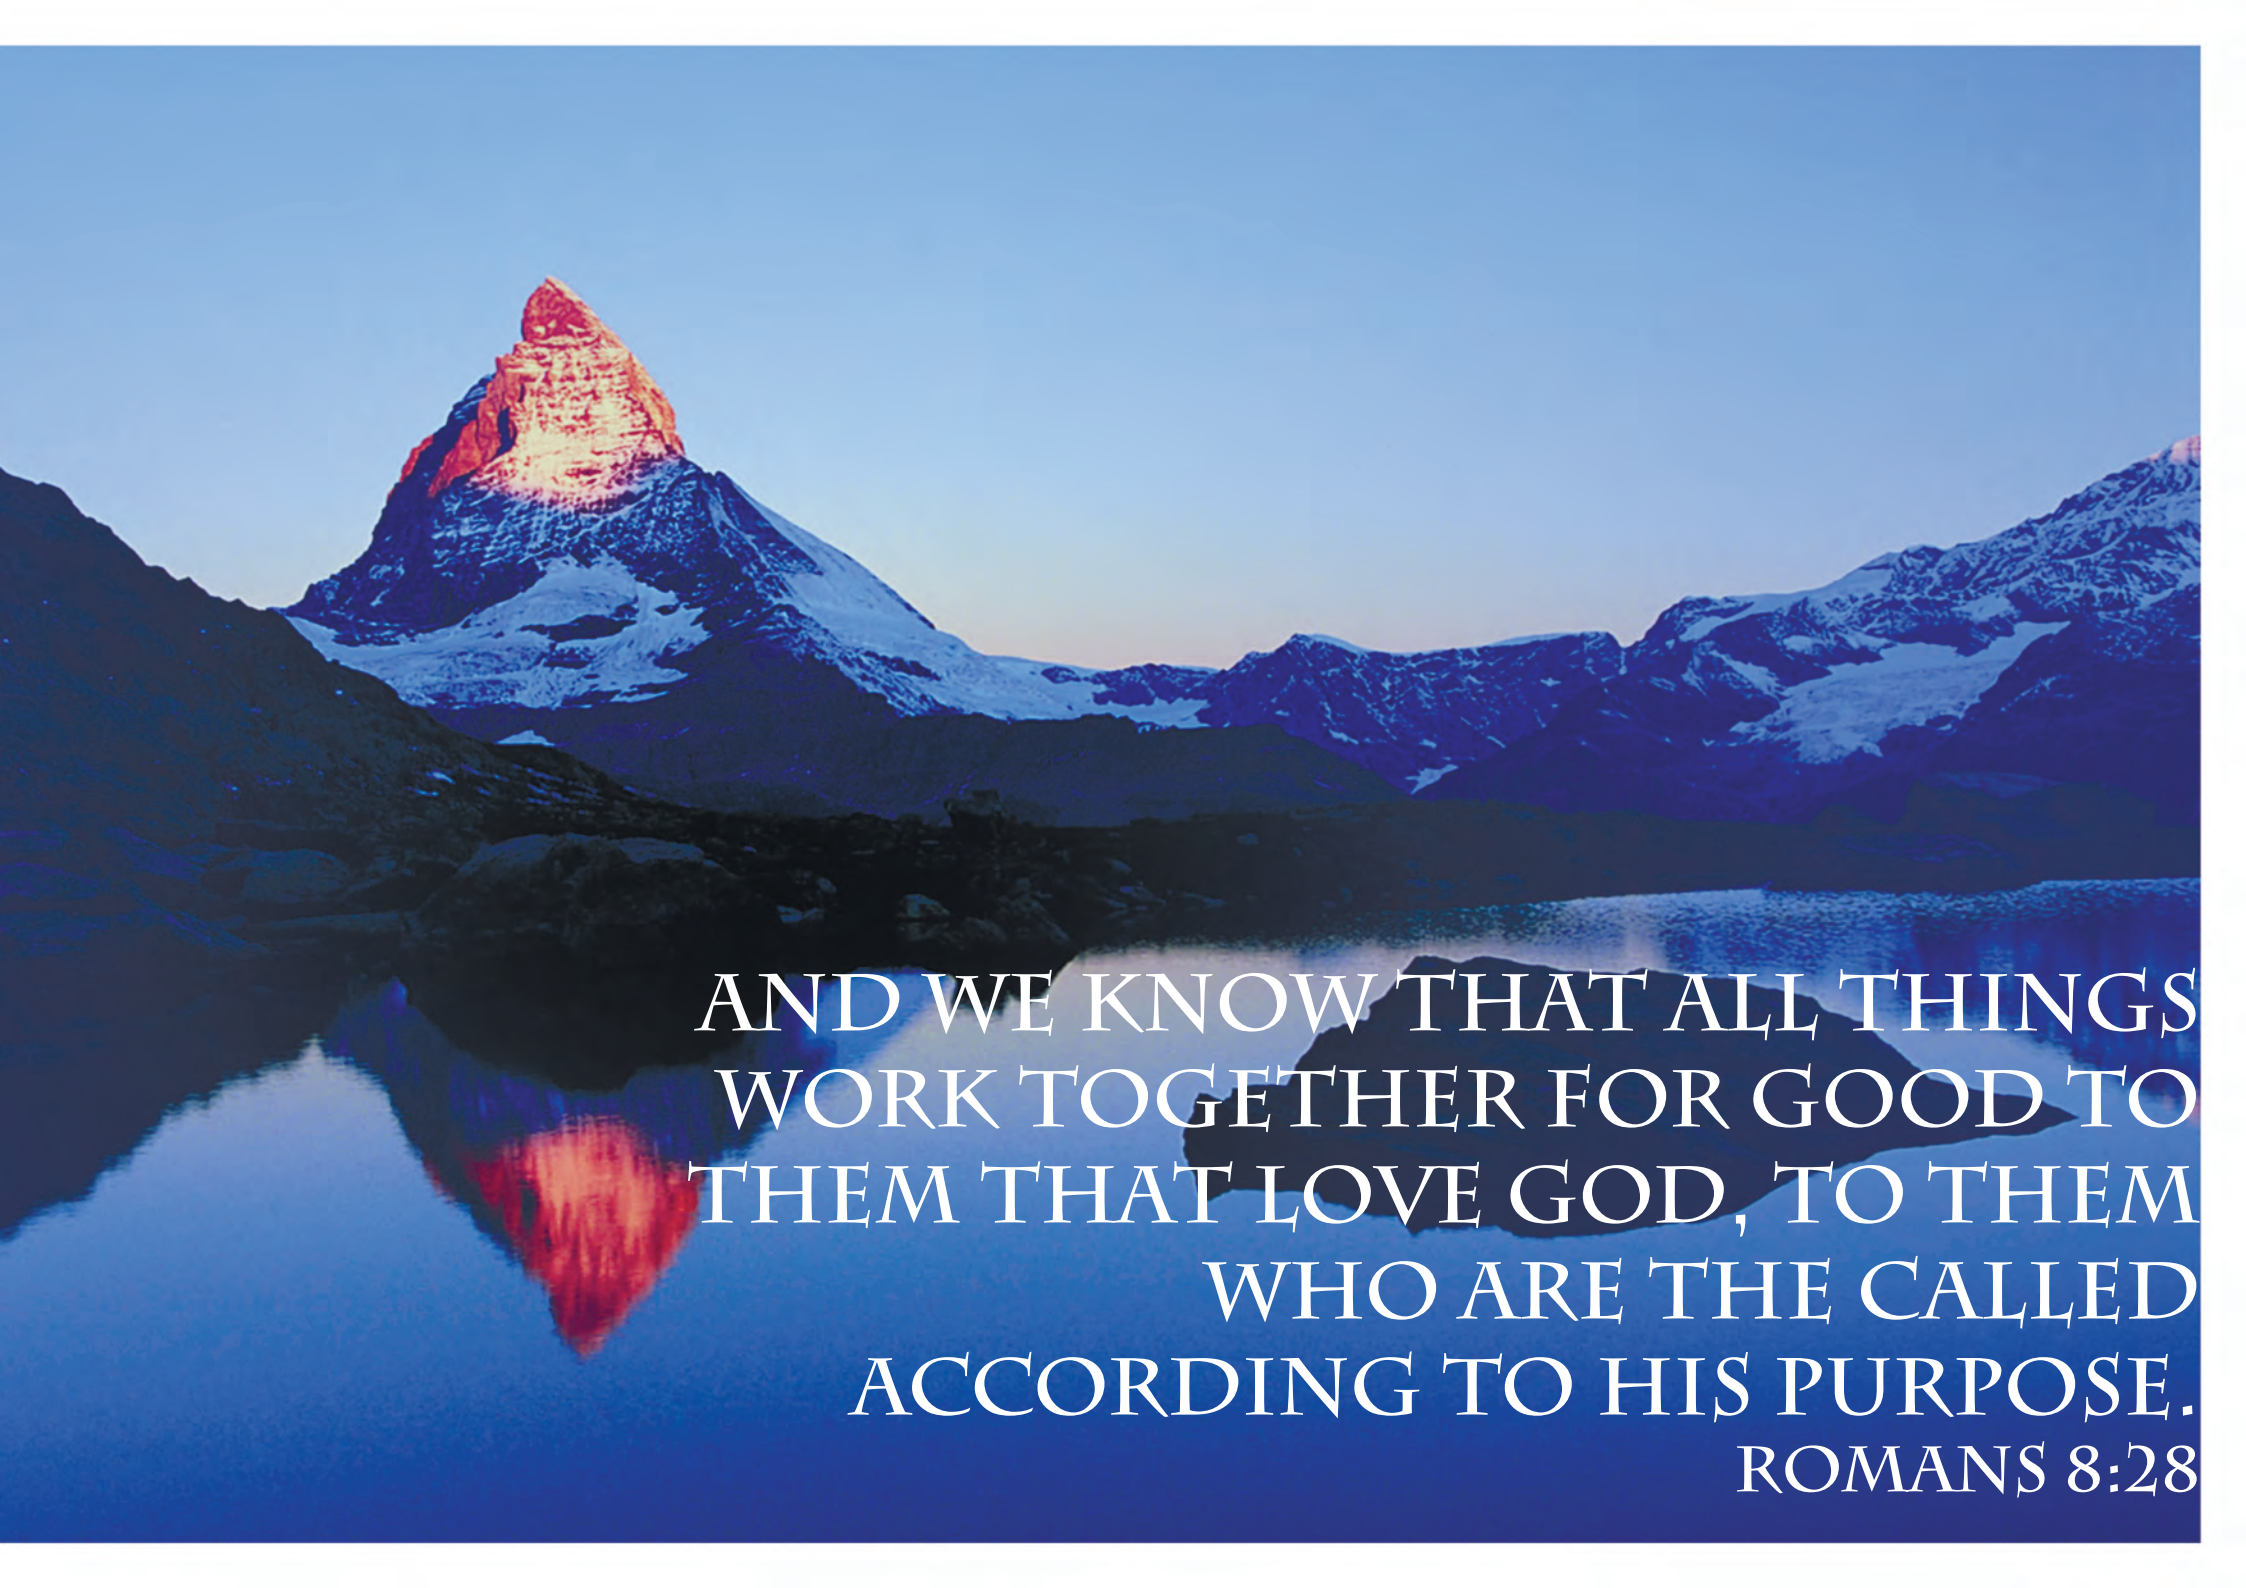

In these two sermons, John Wesley examines what the Bible has to say about the characteristics and activities of both good angels and evil angels. In our materialistic age, his words serve as a timely reminder that we are surrounded by invisible hosts of spirit beings—some benevolent and some malevolent. 45 pages (half size)

by Horace Bushnell

In this classic sermon, the author shows that each of our lives "has a complete and perfect plan cherished in the heart of God—a divine biography marked out, which it enters into life to live. This life, rightly unfolded, will be a complete and beautiful whole." 16 pages

By Lillian G. Harvey

The sin of covetousness, condemned throughout the Bible, has enslaved many who would shrink with horror from seemingly grosser sins. Christian writers from John Chrysostom to C.S. Lewis unite to condemn this evil. 112 pages

The purpose of this book is to remind us that the center of Christianity is Christ Himself, not a doctrine, or a creed, or a form of church government, or even an over-preoccupation with an experience. Beginning with relevant scriptures, the authors go on to quote examples of men and women throughout the centuries who testify, from personal experience, that no matter how good the "it" may be in its own sphere, if it begins to occupy the central place in our lives, it needs to be dethroned so that Christ may once again become all in all. 175 pages

This book is not for everyone and is to be read with caution. However, if you are perplexed by antagonism from your loved ones because of your love for Christ, the reading of Household Foes will encourage you that you are not alone. The author cites examples from both Old and New Testaments and from church history which show how abundantly Jesus' words in Matthew 10: 36 have been found to be true, "A man's foes shall be they of his own household."

A parallel reading of How they Prayed Vol. 1 (Household prayers) pages 50-58 is suggested. 124 pages

A timely publication, emphasizing the need and duty of right judgment. The subject is analyzed thoroughly from a Biblical standpoint. Personal experiences are included, together with articles by Bishop Ryle and Phillips Brooks, in order to help the reader to determine whether "to judge or not to judge." 72 pages

by E. F. & L. Harvey and Norman Woodhouse

The New Creation extols the grandeur of the new birth and elevates the Holy Spirit to His rightful place as the prime Agent in the soul's entire renewal. A must for every Bible teacher, preacher, and student. 173 pages
